

PICK YOUR POD (ONLINE OR IN- PERSON)

Add structure to your child's school year with Tutor Doctor's Pod Learning

Consistency and reliability have long been paths to good learning. But the new school year promises little of either.

Whether your kids are going back to school full-time, part-time or online, Tutor Doctor can help you take control and build structure into their schedule without taking on the extra workload yourself. Available to groups of two or more students from the same grade or family, our Pod Learning program provides safe but structured learning – online or in-person (following recommended CDC guidelines)– to support your children's current school environment.

- Two to four times a week
- Schoolwork guidance and homework support
- Reteaching and resources for review of core subjects

Just $25-30 per student/per one-hour session
